SILVER MEN AND GOLDBUGS.

The money question is the paramount issue of the day in American politics. Every friend of the people in Congress admits that fact. Senators Stewart and Jones proclaim it in their speeches and only the gold trust and its tools do it. The latter endeavor to divide the people on old issues and on tariff schedules so that the gold trust can more easily control them. They will not permit, if money can prevent it, a square fight on the silver question. They resort to trickery and duplicity to prevent this. Their agents in Nevada, presuming upon ignorance, tell the people that the Republican party is in favor of free coinage, when every vote on the silver question proves the contrary, and every prominent man in the party declares against silver recoinage. In Congress the goldbugs do not divide on party lines. In the Senate and House Republicans and Democratic goldmen muster to defeat the passage of any bill that is favorable to silver or that is calculated to increase the volume of money in circulation. Sherman and Gorman, Reed and Carter, make common cause against Silver men, and give their united support to the financial policy of the Administration.

Here in Nevada the followers of Sherman and Reed and of Gorman and Harter, attempt to accomplish by duplicity what they could not hope to do openly and manfully. By professing for the time to be friends of silver, though some of them have publicly declared against free coinage, they hope to deceive the unsophisticated and possibly elect a part of the goldbug ticket next Fall. The Silver men understand their game, however, and are determined that no man who allies himself with a party whose leaders are among the most pronounced goldbugs, and nine-tenths of whose members in Congress have recorded their votes against silver, shall receive their support at the polls next November.—Journal.

Young Patriots.

On St. Patrick's Day Ed. Sweeney put up the Irish flag without the American banner. The boys of the public school quickly discovered the omission and threatened to destroy the green standard unless the red, white and blue was promptly run up. A diminutive American flag soon floated beside the colors of Erin, and the indignation of the boys was appeased, at least partially, for some of them were not too well pleased that their National banner should be so much smaller than the foreign one. Bless the loyal little men! May their patriotism never grow less!

The above appeared in yesterday's News, and Mr. Sweeney wishes it stated that there is no truth in the report. On the morning of St. Patrick's Mr. Sweeney first displayed the Stars and Stripes from the 60-foot pole above the flag of Erin, and so it remained from morning to night. Mr. Sweeney has for 30 years displayed the Irish flag, but always above it floated the American colors. He naturally feels hurt that such an untrue report should be put in circulation.

The "Student Record."

The Student Record of March 15th is an exceedingly handsome number. It contains twenty-two pages of well written matter and seventeen fine engravings. One of the principal articles is "The Nevada State University," by Professor F. H. Hillman, in which the various departments are described and illustrated. Professor N. E. Wilson also furnishes an interesting article on "Nevada at the World's Fair." It also contains intelligent editorial comments and several pages of miscellaneous and local matter. A large edition of the record was published, but it is doubtful if the number printed will equal the demand for the paper.

The Denver News says Senator Stewart makes it very clear that there is absolutely no difference between ex-President Harrison and President Cleveland on the money question, and he scores the Trinidad speech of the ex-President in a most caustic manner. It is a matter of two Presidents, but one policy.

Horses Burned.

Louisville, Ky., March 20.—Some fine trotting stock was destroyed by a fire caused by lightning striking the large stock stable of John Kopf, six miles from Owensburg. In thirty minutes the building, with its contents, including horses to the value of $25,000, was destroyed.

Charles N. Crittenton, sometimes called the "Millionaire Evangelist" on account of his great wealth, will commence a series of meetings in Old Fellow's Hall Tuesday evening March 20th.

He has held meetings in many parts of Europe and Asia, and during the last few years has devoted much time to the Pacific Coast, many thousands having been converted through his influence.

Preparatory services are being held in the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches. A large chorus choir will be organized for the occasion, and a cordial invitation is extended to the people of Carson, Empire, Genoa and other places to assist in these interesting services.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Sipping Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 5 cents a bottle.
